FOREWORD

This brochure was prepared for release in August of 1981 by the Department of Revenue, Research Bureau, in cooperation with other departments of state government and their respective divisions. It is intended to give the reader a brief summary of taxes, license fees, permits, and other similar obligations imposed by the state and local governments of Montana in the hope that it may provide taxpayers, individuals, and corporations with protection against involuntary noncompliance with the law, recognition of potential liabilities, and ease in obtaining additional information.

This brochure incorporates those legislative changes resulting from the actions of the 47th Montana Legislative Assembly and which had either an immediate or an October 1, 1981 effective date. Changes made subsequent to the above date through executive action or administrative rule are available from the responsible agency. Persons using this guide should contact the agencies shown to be responsible for the collection of special taxes, or issuance of licenses or permits, to determine the full extent of their liabilites. This brochure alone is not intended to provide sufficient information to make such determination.

There are several categories which are not included in this guide because they are principally of a "fee for service" or specialized user nature. Generally, these categories include: gross vehicle weights and sizes, special definitions, exceptions, fees, and use permits administered by the Department of Highways; uniform commercial code fee schedule administered by the Secretary of State; and reimbursement schedules based on ability to pay for residents of state institutions, sliding fee schedules based on ability to pay for services received at the mental health centers, certification procedures for drug and alcohol programs, and special certification requirements for professional persons under the mental health and developmental disabilities provisions, the foregoing administered by the Department of Institutions.

Any other omissions are not intended and we would appreciate notification of such omissions so that they may be included in subsequent digests.

Additional copies may be obtained by writing to:

INCOME TAX — Each individual pays income tax on his Montana taxable income. This quantity is derived from gross income by making adjustments for business expenses and taking a variety of allowable deductions and exemptions. The tax due is then calculated by using the following rate schedule:

Taxable Income			Tax Liability
$ 0	1,000		2% of taxable income
1,000	2,000	20+	3% excess over $ 1,000
2,000	4,000	50+	4% excess over 2,000
4,000	6,000	130+	5% excess over 4,000
6,000	8,000	230+	6% excess over 6,000
8,000	10,000	350+	7% excess over 8,000
10,000	14,000	490+	8% excess over 10,000
14,000	20,000	810+	9% excess over 14,000
20,000	35,000	1,350+	10% excess over 20,000
35,000		2,850+	11% excess over 35,000

This state allows $800 exemption for each dependent. This tax applies generally to the net income of Montana residents and to that of non-residents derived from sources within this state. All employers who withhold wages for Federal tax purposes must withhold for Monana income tax.

Starting in tax year 1981, the personal exemption, standard deduction, and rate schedule will be indexed to account for the effect of inflation on Montana income taxes.

In addition to the inheritance tax, an estate tax is imposed upon the transfer of any estate subject to the Federal Estate Tax, and is equal in amount to the maximum tax credit allowable for State Death Taxes against the Federal Estate Tax, less any inheritance tax paid.

Compensation III allows employers to purchase the required coverage from the State Compensation Insurance Fund administered by the Division of Workers' Compensation. The employers pay premiums to the private carriers or State Fund for this insurance coverage.

The assessment charged the self-insurers and private carriers is based on the in-state gross annual payroll and gross annual premium, respectively.

The insurers in all three plans are subject to one percent assessment on compensation paid distributed to the Rehabilitation Fund and a $1,000 assessment on each death claim distributed to the Uninsured Employers' Fund.
